A 3D architectural rendering of a small, modern house. The house has a white gabled roof with a small skylight. The exterior walls are covered in a green, textured material that looks like grass or a similar natural pattern. There is a large window on the left side of the front facade, showing a glimpse of the interior with some furniture. To the right of the window is a small, narrow brick chimney. The house sits on a grey, textured foundation. The background is a cloudy sky.
